

A close-up photograph of a manuscript page, likely from a botanical or scientific notebook. The page is aged and yellowed. In the upper left corner, there is a circular library stamp with the text "BIBLIOTHEQUE" and "MUSEUM" around a central emblem. The page contains several simple line drawings of plants or trees. On the left, there is a drawing of a plant with two large, pointed leaves. To its right, there is a drawing of a plant with a single, large, pointed leaf. Further right, there is a drawing of a plant with a large, rounded canopy and a vertical stem. The drawings are made with dark ink or pencil.

